ESOC 2027

Dear Colleagues,

We are delighted to extend a warm invitation to YOU to join the 24th European Symposium on Organic Chemistry (ESOC), which will take place in the historic city of Bologna. ESOC will return to Italy after many years, and we are excited to share with YOU the beauty, charm, and dynamism of Bologna.
Our conference aims to bring together scientists and students from all areas of organic chemistry who are eager to share the latest advancements and research.

We are committed to fostering an inspiring environment for learning, collaboration, and innovation. We look forward to your participation and to collectively advancing the field of chemistry while enjoying the unique Bolognese hospitality.

Why support ESOC 2027?
Branding: Take advantage of unique marketing opportunities through our website, oral presentations, banners, and conference merchandise.
Networking: Benefit from valuable informal spaces to connect with potential clients, collaborators, and leading researchers.
Showcasing your products or services: An exhibition stand will increase your visibility and allow direct engagement with participants. All stands will be strategically located near catering areas and social events to ensure maximum exposure.
We look forward to welcoming you to Bologna and to sharing an inspiring and memorable ESOC 2027 together.
